Program Committee of Rush County
Chautauqua Addresses Letters to Five Others Today.

ALL IN EASTERN INDIANA

Proposition For all to Meet Bureau
Managers Here August 4—Shelbyville Committee Here.

Letters were mailed today by the program committee of the Rush county Chautauqua association to officials of the chautauqua organizations at Connersville, Columbus, Greensburg, Shelbyville and Richmond inviting them to come here Tuesday, August 4, when the local program committee will meet Lyceum bureau managers to talk over talent for 1915, for a conference to see if some sort of co-operative plan of buying talent can not be arranged for the chautauquas in eastern Indiana.

The trend in the last few years, as has been shown by numerous examples, is from the circuit chautauqua, managed by the chautauqua bureaus, to the independent chautauqua, which has been such an unqualified success here as elsewhere.

Recognizing the value of the independent over the circuit, the Shelbyville chautauqua officials have already made preparation to drop the circuit chautauqua after this year and go it alone, and the Connersville officials are about in the same notion, because they refused to sign a contract with the Redpath bureau for next year when the Redpath managers attempted to raise the price of season tickets from $2.00 to $2.50.

Shelbyville sent a committee over here last night to confer with the management of the Rush county association and view the Coliseum which was built from the proceeds of the independent chautauqua. The Shelbyville committee said that a Coliseum to house their independent chautauqua would be built next year. They wanted to get some idea of the building here.

The committee from Shelbyville consisted of Walter Montgomery, editor of the Shelbyville Republican; the Rev. Earl North pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Shelbyville; Oscar Hall, an attorney and Mr. Dorsey, J. H. Scholl, secretary of the Rush county association, and John A. Titworth and E. B. Thomas, members of the program committee, met the Shelbyville committee last night and conferred with the visitors. They gave the committee all the information they possessed concerning the value of the independent chautauqua.

The visit of the Shelbyville committee and its announcement that Shelbyville would have an independent chautauqua after this year, together with the fact that Connersville is thinking of breaking away from the circuit, suggested the idea that the chautauquas in this part of Indiana might co-operate to their mutual advantage in buying talent. In this way they would have all of the advantages of the circuit chautauqua with none of its disadvantages. In other words, the committees would be "free lances" in booking talent, but their combination might buy talent cheaper by reason of the fact it could all be sold at once to six different assemblies.

Whether arrangements could be effected for the chautauquas to be held the same week each year is problematical, but if it were possible, this, too, would tend to reduce expenses because the talent could be

D. BOONE THORPE IN AGAIN

Causes Trouble at Homer—Will be Placed in Poor Asylum.

Sheriff Cavitt was called to Homer last evening and brought back Daniel Boone Thorpe. Thorpe is again showing signs of insanity and was disturbing the people there. Thorpe left this city Sunday headed for Columbus after he promised the officials that he would leave here. He got as far as Homer where he has some relatives. Thorpe has been in the Madison asylum but was released some time ago. Sheriff Cavitt plans to take him to the poor farm and will not send him back to Madison unless absolutely necessary.

INJUNCTION GIVEN IN CIRCUIT COURT

W. Martin, Union Township Trustee, and John Mangold, Are Restrained From Building Fence.

IS ASKED BY WILLIAM FRY

Judge Megee granted a temporary injunction this morning against John Mangold and William R. Martin, trustee of Union township, restraining them from constructing a line fence along the farm owned by William Fry. The injunction suit was filed by Fry and the court took action immediately.

The complaint states that Fry's land adjoins that of James Baird and that the question of who should keep up the line fence has been in dispute. According to the complaint, Baird served notice on Fry to build the fence on April 8. This was done according to the law. After the expiration of twenty days and after Fry had refused to build the fence, Baird notified the trustee, Martin. Martin served notice on Fry that he would build the fence and charge the same to Fry. His estimated cost was $130.50. The complaint states that work has started and the temporary injunction will stop this until the case is finally disposed of.

SAYS DRINKING MADE HIM INSANE

Insanity Commission Finds August
Ebbing of Manilla Person of Unsound Mind Monday Afternoon.

IS BEING HELD HERE IN JAIL

August Ebbing, a well known farmer of Walker township, was declared a person of unsound mind yesterday afternoon by an insanity commission composed of Squire Kratzer, Drs. D. H. Dean and J. G. Lewis of this city, and Dr. Waltermier of Manilla. The inquest was held in Manilla. Ebbing is in jail here awaiting developments in the case.

It was shown that he has been drinking very heavily for the last few weeks and the opinion of the physicians was this caused him to go insane. It is believed that it is temporary. Application has been made to the Madison asylum, but he may not be taken if he shows any improvement. In his present condition Ebbing is considered dangerous.

L. C. Snodgrass and family are moving from 104 East Seventh to the apartments in the Republican Flats.

THERE MAY BE 2 KINDS OF HEAT

Weather Man Says if "High" Lo-cates Itself Over Gulf States,
Heat Will be Intensified.

THEN ANOTHER CONDITION

After Two Refreshing Nights and Days, Winter Bed Clothing Goes to Summer Repose in Moth Balls.

When in doubt remain so, seems to be a very good axiom to apply to the weather man. Most people have been in doubt about his ability to hold the cool weather stop in. They were right to be in doubt because last night the w. m. let it slip out and today it was as hot as ever.

But "as hot as ever" should be qualified. There have been hotter days than today, but today was a plenty warm. It was so warm that the mercury mounted to ninety-five degrees this afternoon and gave indications of going higher. The change was noticeable last night when folks who hauled out the winter bed clothing Saturday night had to consign to its summer repose in a box of moth balls again.

Yesterday the weather man pointed that the barometer registered forebodings of impending evil. Hereafter it will be well to take the barometer's word for it. To make it as brief as possible and to allay the pain, it may be stated that today was warmer than yesterday; yesterday was warmer than Sunday; tomorrow may be warmer than today, etc. But there will surely be something to break the charm.

The weather man says the stage is all set for the arrival of "more warm weather" by the middle of the week. By the best calculations, tomorrow noon is the middle of the week. The break, he says, will not be abrupt, but the heat will sorta ease in unwellcomed just like it slipped up a notch or two today. The change is due to a shifting of the circulation of the air around to the south and south-east from whence all well regulated warm "spells" come.

But the kind w. m. offers consolation. There is, in a way, some chance of escaping real hot, hot weather. If the "high" (meaning pressure) locates itself over the gulf states, the heat will be intensified to such an extent that it will be very oppressive. If this "high" thing is pushed away by a West Indian storm, which is now centered over the southern waters, the hot weather will keep on coming just the same, but it will probably not be so intense as it would be under the other conditions.

Any one who can find any cheer in the foregoing explanation is welcome to it. It is presented merely because that's what the official authority on heavenly activities says about it.

WILL BE READY IN 5 OR 6 WEEKS

New Masonic Temple Will be Completed Within That Time, Contractor Anderson Announces.

POSTOFFICE IS NEARLY DONE

Building Committee, Contractor and Architect Receive Praise For Modern Building.

Work on the new Masonic Temple in North Main street, is rapidly nearing completion, and Contractor Anderson believes that he will be able to have it ready for occupancy within five or six weeks. On account of the lease of the government of one-half of the first floor for the postoffice, he has finished this room first, and it is now ready for occupancy. The fixtures are here, and workmen have been engaged in installing them.

All furniture for this room is steel finished in mahogany and presents a very pleasing appearance. Postmaster G. P. Hunt intends to move the office from the present location August 1, and when moved Rushville will have one of the most up-to-date offices in the state of any city not having a federal building. Each department of the postoffice will be separated from the others. Each of the rural and city carriers will be furnished with individual desks for the distribution of the mail. They will also have at their disposal a swing, or rest room, for their use when not engaged in the duties of the office.

The building, which is two stories and basement, is constructed of face and common brick, and hollow tile. The lower floor consists of three rooms, a store room, moving picture theatre and the postoffice, while the entire second floor will be given over to the uses of the Masonic lodge. Besides the lodge room they will have social rooms, armory, banquet room and kitchen, and other smaller rooms for the paraphernalia and uniforms of the members of the order. The banquet room and lodge room have large mezzanine balconies for the accommodation of guests and spectators; also one for musicians. The entire building is to be finished in bog oak, with the exception of the lodge room, which will be white enamel.

The building committee, which is composed of Dr. F. G. Hackleman, Earl H. Payne and A. L. Stewart, should be commended for its selection of the architect, Herbert Foltz, of Indianapolis, who has designed a building of which they can well be proud. William McGuire, who has been connected with the Foltz office for a number of years, and who formerly resided here, is the superintendent of construction.

Bert Anderson, the general contractor, deserves much credit for the quality of workmanship and material which he put into the building. He came here well recommended, and it is evident that the committee made a wise selection when the contract was awarded to Mr. Anderson. At present Mr. Anderson has but one other job, the new $65,000 high school at Hartford City.

No date has yet been set for the formal dedication of the building, but some of the members have said that there would be a dinner, and that the menu would be turkey "with trimmings."

Every Boy Scout which will go into the camp at Webb's ford tomorrow is urged to attend the meeting at the Christian church tonight at seven o'clock as it is then that final instructions will be given.

REMARKABLE WATER WELL

One Drilled Near Raleigh Which Throws Stream 8 Feet High.

A water well remarkable for its flow of water has just been completed on the Oscar Gordon farm, east of Raleigh. The water coming through a four inch main throws a stream eight feet above the ground. The well is 125 feet deep and the water is very fine. Since the well has been drilled it has attracted no end of attention and it may be that several other wells may be drilled in that neighborhood.

SAYS BODY IS NOT NEWCASTLE CHILD'S

Dr. James Hiatt, of Newcastle, Who Was Present When Catherine
Was Born, Sees Corpse.

EXHUMED AT URBANA, ILLINOIS

(By United Press.)

Urbana, Ill., July 21.—Dr. James Hiatt, Newcastle, Ind., physician who was present at the birth of Catherine Winters, declared this afternoon he was positive the body of a child disinterred from the Mount Hope cemetery here was not that of the Winters girl as had been suspected by the Detective Romaine of Newcastle.

Hiatt was brought here by Romaine last night and after much persuasion Nicholas Larry, Urbana retired farmer, consented this afternoon to allow the body of a child which he said was his three-year-old daughter to be taken from its grave a second time for identification.

B. B. Barber, a Newcastle tailor who accompanied Dr. Hiatt here, also says it is not the Winters child.

BREAKFAST BACON POPULAR IN MILROY

Only Meat Shop in Anderson Township Metropolis Closes its Doors
Because of Business Reverses.

OPERATED TWELVE YEARS

The Smith and Mock meat shop in Milroy has closed its doors and the people there are wondering how and where they are going to get their meat supply as this was the only butcher shop in the town. Business reverses are given as the cause of the shop closing. As a result of the closing of the only meat market in the town, the grocery stores have been doing a "land office" business and breakfast bacon has become very popular.

The meat shop has been operated for the last twelve years by Ben Smith and Fred Mock. The store was closed last Saturday. It is understood that an effort will be made to sell the place. The indebtedness of the firm is not known.

EYE WITNESSES TELL OF MURDER

Office Attendant and Playwright Depict Scene After Shooting of Calmette by Madam Caillaux

TURNED HEAD AS SHE FIRED

Opening Statement Made by Woman
Charged With Murder of Paris
Editor is Dramatic in Extreme.

BULLETIN.

(By United Press.)

Paris, France, July 21.—The storm of political hatred nearly burst upon Paris today during the trial of Madam Caillaux for the murder of Editor Calmette when the deposition of President Raymond Poincare was read in court. This was an unprecedented procedure and low murmurs spreading through the court room gained in volume until the court threatened the disturbers with arrest if they were not silent. The president's testimony told of Caillaux coming to him while minister of finance and telling of his beliefs that Calmette intended to publish personal letters.

"If he does I shall kill him," Caillaux told the president.

(By United Press.)

Paris, France, July 21.—The scene following the shooting of Gaston Calmette by Madam Caillaux was described today in the murder trial of the woman. Paul Bourget, playwright, said he was first to enter the office after the shooting.

"Calmette lay gasping in his chair. Madam Caillaux was standing. The pistol was in her hand," he said. "An office attendant took hold of her and she said, 'Unhand me, I am a woman. I shall not run.'"

An attendant named Cirac then testified:

"I rushed in on hearing the shooting. One shot was fired after I entered. She turned her head away as she fired."

"I shot Gaston Calmette because I knew that he was going to publish in his newspaper the love letters that had been sent me by my husband, M. Caillaux, before he had divorced his first wife, Mme. Guerdon. These letters had been stolen from M. Caillaux by his wife, who wanted to ruin me because her husband loved me."

These words were taken from the thrilling, impassioned statement made in the Court of Assizes by Madame Caillaux, whose trial for her life for the slaying of Calmette, editor of Le Figaro, March 16, last was in progress.

For three hours the beautiful woman talked to the three judges and jury. Sometimes she seemed to shrink in horror from the ordeal she was undergoing, and sometimes her voice rang out with a startling clearness to electrify her audience and stamp her a pleader and an actress worthy the fame of Portia or a Bernhardt.

It was at the end of her remarkable plea that Mme. Caillaux wrought a climax of emotion never approached before in a court of France.

She had been weeping, her hands before her face, as she declared that she was bereft of her senses when she killed her victim.

Suddenly she straightened before her judges and flung out her arms in a passionate gesture of appeal:

"Surely the punishment I have already suffered for the killing of this man is great enough. Merely to realize all your life that you are the slayer of a human being would bring enough retribution; but how much more frightful to feel that the world

STRIKE AT INSANE ASYLUM

Attendants Differ With Superintendent and Quit Work.

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., July 21.—Can a man read a paper or play a game of cards or scuffle with another attendant and still keep a watchful eye on an insane patient?

Male attendants at the Southeastern Hospital for the Insane think they couldn't. The result was that a number of the attendants went on strike, leaving the patients in the care of farmers and outside men for several hours.

Attendants say that if an attendant can't break the monotony of the 15-hour watch over the insane person with a little diversion the attendant is in no mental condition to watch the insane.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

MYSTERY STILL CLINGS TO CASE

Despite Letter Mrs. Earle Wrote Denying Elopement, People Are Not Quite Satisfied.

IS LOCATED IN WISCONSIN

(By United Press.)

Hammond, Ind., July 21.—Some degree of mystery still clings about the disappearance of Mrs. Minnadell Earle, bride of Chester Earle, a contractor here, in spite of a remarkable letter received. The letter read:

"The statement that I eloped with one T. W. Brown is absolutely false. I was forced away from Detroit under threat of my life, taken to Chicago, held for 27 days, without any chance to communicate with the outside world in any way.

"The statement that I am ready to wed another is also false, for I love my husband."

These brief sentences seem to tell of a fearful struggle of a month duration; of a kidnaping by some desperate man, whose name is not given.

Before marrying Earle Miss Minnadell was the organist of a fashionable church in Detroit and a teacher of music. Two days after her wedding she disappeared, and rumor had it she had either eloped with or been kidnapped by T. W. Brown, who was a former sweetheart and who was reported to have said that if he could not have her no other man could.

Mrs. Earle chose in her letter only to disclose the essential facts without giving the name of her kidnapper.

Mr. Earle's mother was more communicative, however. She said the bride had been kidnapped by Brown for revenge.

Though Earle has known for some time of the whereabouts of his wife and of her experience, he has not gone to see her. She is at or near Stevens Point, Wis.

The city street cleaning department has cleaned the several days' coat of dirt from the block in Perkins street between Fifth and Sixth, and from the block in Sixth street between Perkins and Willow. The pavement was covered with a thick layer of dirt caused by hauling from the Graham school lot where excavation was being made for the new school building.

PLENTY OF BAD PAPER IN STATE

Forgers Have Been Very Active Here of Late and Fraudulent Checks Are Common.

DETECTIVES WORK ON CASES

Muncie Seems to Have Been Center For Flexible Artists Recently—One at Greensburg.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 21.—"There is always plenty of bad paper about, but just now it seems that there are a few more clever forgers in the small cities of Indiana than usual," said Jeffrey Kinney, lieutenant of detectives, today. Kinney, who knows the middle name of most every crook of note in the United States, said that while Indianapolis always had plenty of forgers it was mostly local talent.

The Indianapolis detective department returned to Muncie a man giving the name of Mose Clark, wanted there for alleged forging of several bad checks. Muncie seems to have been the center for flexible pen artists recently. A man known as "J. A. Fones" was dined and made much of recently. He said he represented Fone Bros., who have a chain of hardware stores in the south. Every time he turned around he bought small orders of from $20,000 to $200,000 of automobiles, dish rags and the like, and then he would cash pretty checks on southern banks. One day he accompanied a deputy warden to Michigan City where he will remain for some time continuing a visit interrupted by his trip to Muncie and elsewhere.

Ralph Root told Greensburg people that he was a rather close relative of Elihu Root, U. S. Senator, but since he was in jail at the time awaiting trial for alleged utterance of fraudulent checks, no one paid much attention to him. Root claimed that every prominent Root in the country sprang from his family tree, but he seems to be rooted in Greensburg for some time.

The days of the smooth and daring Orville Hodgson were recalled in Bluffton when a fine looking fellow of 18, six feet tall and well dressed, passed himself off as a college student and tried to prevail on local people to trade good money for his paper. He gave his name as Robert Williams, but that wasn't it. He left town before the authorities saw him.

Charles Piez, Manufacturer, Condemns Closed Shop and Denounces Use of Gunmen by Employers.

BEFORE FEDERAL COMMISSION

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Ill., July 21.—Charles Piez, former president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, denounced the use of gunmen by employers as "very vicious" today. He was the first witness before the federal commission on industrial relations. He is president of the Link Belt company with factories in Indianapolis, Philadelphia and Chicago.

"Injunction to prevent violence should be issued in labor disputes. If they are not the employer must hire his own guards and that is a bad alternative," he said.

Piez bitterly condemned the closed shop principle, saying that since his company had declared for the open shop, its output had increased near 100 per cent. Others will testify for the closed shop later.

Vincent Nicholson, field agent for Earlham college, was here today after prospective students for the institution.

Amusements

The Gem will show a two reel Victor drama "A Million in Pearls" for the first picture tonight. Walter Miller and Violet Cameron are featured and it is said to be a dramatic production. It is a thrilling detective story and is very realistic. The other is a Nestor comedy entitled "The Newlywed's Dilemma." Eddie Lyons and Victoria Ford are featured in the one. Tomorrow night the three reel Bison feature drama "The Hills of Silence" will be shown.

The Princess will show the tenth of the series of adventures of Kathryn Williams for tonight. It is entitled "The Warrior Maid." It is said to be a thrilling picture and is equally as good as the other pictures of the series shown here. It is a continuation of the story but is a complete story in itself. The other is a Vitagraph comedy "Bunny Buys a Harem." John Bunny and Flora Finch are featured. Tomorrow night the "Perils of Pauline" will be shown.

When you hear the blare of the Arlington band as it marches up Main street and when the old familiar call of the merry-go-round goes out from St. Mary's park, you will know that the annual carnival given by the men of St. Mary's Catholic church is in full blast again.

For ten years these annual events have been conducted by the hustling young men of St. Mary's church until they have grown to be an established feature in the life of the city. There has never been a failure in the history of these affairs and it is expected that the beautiful grounds will be thronged as usual this week by the crowds which gather from all over the county as well as from the city.

The chief amusement feature for the evening will be a minstrel show. Twenty-one young men and young women will give a half hour of old-fashioned black-face minstrelsy. The first performance begins at 8:15 and people are urged to get there on time as the opening is unique.

The women will find much to interest them in the fancy booth. The collection of plain and fancy handiwork is by far the most extensive and most varied ever offered. An early visit is said to be advisable for the demand at this booth always exceeds the supply. The women of the Altar society will conduct an exchange beginning Wednesday evening and continuing throughout the week. Tomorrow night the first ward section will be in charge.

Miss Norma Smith assisted in the program by giving a monologue, playing a piano solo and singing a solo. Music was also rendered on the Victrola. Refreshments were served.

believes you to have slain him deliberately.

"There was no premeditation in my act. You don't know what I had suffered from Calmette's attacks. Everywhere I was insulted and even feared assassination. No wonder I lost my head."

The scene in the court as Mme Caillaux finished her passionate plea was extraordinary. From the moment she had been brought from her cell near-by to answer to the charge of murder, crowds of notables packed the court room and even overflowed into the streets outside. Mme Caillaux entered as her name was called and confronted the judges and the jury.

She was calm, but very pale, and when the judge asked her to plead guilty or not guilty she faltered for a moment and was forced to clutch an officer's hand to keep from falling. She then murmured, "Not guilty."

The judges' role was a simple one, confined to encouraging her with brief questions as she came to each successive phase of the drama. Mme. Caillaux was a willing witness throughout and showed great self-control. It was only after she had concluded her narrative and was asked if there was anything that she would like to add that she cast restraint aside and with accents of genuine emotion thrilled her listeners and elicited murmurs of applause. Then she described vividly the protracted agony she had endured.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. The Public Playground.

The women of Rushville are to be congratulated on the successful completion of the campaign to locate a public playground for children in Rushville. Nothing speaks better for a city than an active interest in the little folks who in the next generation will be the grown-ups of Rushville and who will have the management of the city in their hands. It is a healthy attitude—a sane attitude—for the parents to give attention to the needs of their children's amusement, rather than to "turn them loose" on the streets to roam where they will and cause all the trouble and confusion they can for others.

Rushville took a stand among the progressive cities of Indiana—or of the United States for that matter—when it awakened to the needs of the children and the mothers and others having some regard for the welfare of the child made possible the public playground. The benefits of the playground are too well known and too generally accepted to need a thorough discussion.

There was some little hitch over the location of the playgrounds, but that was very inconsequential and the installation of the equipment will go forward now with great rapidity. There seems to be no suitable location aside from the city park. To place the playground outside of the city limits would remove all chance of the playground receiving the assistance of the school city. And support from this source must it have, or it will most likely fail because it can not be expected that the playground could be operated forever by private subscription.

The main objection of some few persons opposed to the city park as the home of the playground was that no swimming pool could be located there. Although it is true that swimming pools are generally found with playgrounds in larger cities, it does not necessarily follow that a playground without a swimming pool will fail here. The cases are not analogous. In many larger cities thousands of children who are old enough to use a swimming pool have not the natural advantages to be found here in Rushville. There are many swimming places within easy reach of Rushville which boys and girls whose parents do not object and who are old enough may use. But the playground is expected to appeal as much if not more to the child which could not swim once it were in the water. The lack of a swimming pool in the Rushville playground will not hamper the institution in the least, it appears.

It is announced that there is to be a wading pool, which will serve to amuse the younger children whose parents would not allow them on the playground, even though supervised, if there were a swimming pool there.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

Yes, A Condition.
(Muncie Press.)

It was President Cleveland who said. "It is a condition and not a theory that confronts us."

That is true right now in that matter of the tariff.

Two years ago it was possible for the free trade orator to lay at the door of the tariff every economic and political evil, and on the other hand to paint a beautiful picture of the millennium that would follow the slashing of the protective tariff. There was no way to disprove his prospectus except to refer to periods in American history during which the experiment had been tried and turned out badly; eras which had passed beyond the personal recollection of the average auditor.

But now we have passed from the realm of theory to the world of fact. We have that promised slashing of the tariff. We are able to judge the efficacy of tariff revision as a trust remedy. We are able to know from practical experience whether or not those who said that the tariff was added to the price of the commodity, and that if you took off the tariff, you would reduce the price, were telling the truth. We know they were not. They may have thought they were right, but the inexorable logic of events proves that they were ridiculously wrong. Nobody with a thimbleful of brains longer talks to an intelligent audience about smashing the trusts and bringing down retail prices of commodities by reducing the tariff. On the contrary the people of the United State have seen infinite injury done to the producer by this process without the consumer being profited a penny's worth. The thing is the biggest hoax of modern times. Yet it was a beautiful theory. It made a fine text for jeremiads. But it was just a theory.

It is amusing now to note the efforts of those who portrayed tariff "reform" as a sovereign remedy for every human ailment, to prove an alibi for the tariff law which put their theories into effect. There is the Saturday Evening Post, which let out a weekly yelp about the infamous Payne-Aldrich law and the things it was doing to the ultimate consumer. We have the change the Post and other papers of its kind demanded, but they are not pointing with pride. The Saturday Evening Post now admits the existence of depression, but makes light of the idea that the government at Washington has anything to do with either prosperity or hard times. It lets the consumer hold the sack while it changes the subject.

But despite the efforts of publications of this kind, which fought the Taft administration because it was opposing their postal graft, and because they wanted free print paper, to depreciate the significance of existing conditions, the facts are getting to the people. The people realize the significance of the quarter billion shrinkage in imports under the first nine months operations of the new tariff law. They know what it means to have the balance of trade go against us. And when they read dispatches like the following, which appears in the Chicago Record Herald, an independent newspaper, of Sunday, they have their own opinions of the false prophets who went around last year telling them that all they would have to do to bring on a millennium was to repeal the infamous, odious, damnable protective tariff,—here is the dispatch:

"Whatever the German steamship companies have to complain about in connection with the conditions in the United States, German exporters are jubilant over the benefits they are deriving under the wool tariff.

"Robert J. Thompson, the American consul at Aix-la-Chapelle, submits figures characteristic practically of all other consular districts in Germany invoiced by experts. For the quarter ended June 30 Aix-la-Chapelle exports to the United States aggregated $2,177,430, as compared with $1,343,449 for the same quarter of 1913, a gain of 40 per cent.

"One exporter in Mr. Thompson's district declares that America is now taking his entire output, necessitating a large increase in his plant. Previously he had sold only one-third of his output in the American market."

A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And is Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years. "The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blest with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot over estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ADELIA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio.

FAST TEAM TO BE HERE SUNDAY

Muncie With Amos Byrd in Box Will be Attraction at South Main Street Lot.

FANS TO SEE REAL BALL GAME

Let Newcastle Down With One Hit Last Sunday and Rushville Will be Forced to go Some.

The fans will have chance Sunday to see the Arcadians in action against one of the fastest teams in this section, when the Muncie Shamrocks come here for a game. So far the Arcadians have had easy picking but Sunday the team will be forced to the limit to capture the game if the dope is true.

Last Sunday the Muncie team was defeated by Newcastle 2 to 1 in the best game of the year on the Newcastle grounds. The Muncie team is headed by Amos Byrd, one of the best pitchers in semi-pro ball, and the Arcadians will be up against the hardest proposition yet faced. Byrd Sunday in the Newcastle game let that aggregation down with one scattered hit and that came in the seventh inning. It was Charles Stiers, former Rushville boy that got the only single of the game off Byrd and the game was won in this frame because of errors behind Byrd.

Byrd is a southpaw and the fans will readily see that the Arcadians will be up against some class with him in the box for the Muncie team. The team that comes here Sunday will be the same that played at Newcastle and the fans will have the first chance to get a line on the relative strength of Newcastle and Rushville.

The fans have been wanting to see the Arcadians face a team with some class and their wish will be fulfilled. The team has been playing good ball and has defeated some of the best teams in the state. Their pitcher, Byrd, has long been recognized as one of the best in the business. He has pitched for Alexander, Elwood and three years ago was the main stay of the Newcastle Maxwell team.

The management is giving the fans a chance to show whether or not they will support a real team and the patronage Sunday should be good. Manager Davidson will probably send Heller to the mound and the rest of the lineup will be the same as usual. Humpty Badel will be seen at first base. Badel played right field for Connersville Sunday, having a chance to play because the Arcadians had an off day.

One week from Sunday the Arcadians will go to Connersville where they will play the third game of the series with Remington's team. The locals have two defeats to wipe out with Remington's team and Manager Davidson is out for revenge.

MANY FORMER BULL MOOSE OUT

Most Interesting Feature of Republican Conference Last Week Was Their Attendance.

THEIR NAMES ARE GIVEN

One Time Progressives Are on Republican Ticket and High in Councils of Party.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 21.—One of the interesting features of the series of conferences at Republican state headquarters last week between State Chairman Hays and the county chairmen was the large number of former Progressives who were active in the organization work.

Edgar D. Bush, of Salem, who is making an active fight from one end of the third district to the other, as the Republican nominee for congress, was a supporter of the candidacy of Col. Roosevelt in 1912. Aaron Rasor of Warsaw was a Progressive in 1918 but he is now chairman of the Kosciusko county Republican organization. Ben F. McCready of Connersville was one of the prominent Progressive leaders in the sixth district in 1912 but he is now the active chairman of the Fayette county Republican committee.

One of the prominent figures in the Republican conference Wednesday was Walter S. Montgomery of Shelbyville. In 1912 Mr. Montgomery, through his paper, the Shelbyville Republican, was a Progressive leader of his congressional district. This year Mr. Montgomery and his paper are active in the advancement of the interests of the Republican party. He is now a member of the executive committee of the Indiana Republican Editorial association.

Charles E. Edwards, of Hendricks county, was a Progressive worker in 1912. He is now chairman of the Hendricks county Republican committee and as such was a participant in Thursday's conference. James L. Allen of Fountain, county who was one of the strongest supporters of Roosevelt in Western Indiana in 1912, was prominent in Friday's conference of Republican workers. James L. Wilson was prominent as a Progressive in the fifth district in 1912. He is now the Republican nominee for the legislature in Clay county. Ralph V. Solitt, of Peru was a Progressive in 1912. He is now the Republican nominee for the legislature in Miami county. W. E. Klee of Indianapolis, who made speeches in eastern Indiana in 1912 under the direction of the Progressive state committee, was a participant in the Republican conference Thursday. Mr. Klee will make Republican speeches in Indiana this fall.

A number of other former Progressives took part in perfecting plans for the Republican organization work in the state. The former Progressives are finding that the plank in the recent Republican party platform regarding party management means just exactly what it says that every member of the party has an equal share in its direction and responsibilities.

ANNOUNCEMENT WRONG.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Lydia Dugan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dugan, and Sam Shuck, made yesterday in the Daily Republican, was incorrect. The announcement was received through the mail by the Republican and was published in good faith. Apparently the announcement was sent with malicious intent.

The funeral services of Mrs. George Miller will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence near Neff's Corner. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

The funeral services of Mrs. Hypatia Ochiltree will be conducted Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the late residence in Glenwood. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

Ellegance In Style

Altho not seen, is just as apparent in corsets as in gowns. Over corsets not made on the proper lines the most fashionable gown will drape but poorly. "Woman has entered an evolution and is beginning to seek perfect health just as keenly as Fashion." We quote an address of a learned Doctor. The Corset of fashion is the corset of health—and its aid in producing the deep chest, flat back and free, untrammelled grace of perfect physical type is now admitted by all authorities. As a modest priced corset, strong and serviceable for every-day wear, yet with pride of line worthy to "set off" your handsomest tailored Suit, we suggest a

American League Magnates Find
Way Out Today When They Authorize Sale of Player Kraft.

"WAR IS ONLY BEGINNING"

(By United Press.)

New York, July 21.—There will be no baseball strike. American League magnates found a way out today when they authorized the sale of player Kraft to the Newark club of the International League. He is to be purchased by Newark on the valuation set by the Nashville club of the Southern League.

"There will be no strike," said President Fultz of the Players' fraternity. "All we wanted was to get a square deal for Kraft," he said.

It was reported that the magnates planned to discipline players who compose the advisory committee of the players' fraternity. President Barrow of the International League was asked whether this was the end of the war.

"I think it is just the beginning," he said, and would not speak further.

TO GIVE CARRANZA ITS WHOLE SUPPORT

United States Will Stand Behind Him in Case of Counter Revolution,
Even if Started by Villa.

CONCESSIONS WILL BE MADE

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 21.—Carranza has agreed to make material concessions to acting President Carbajal and the United States will give him its unqualified support. This was admitted in official circles here today. This means that he will have the aid of the United States and the South American governments opposing any counter revolution, even if started by Villa.

While the administration considers it too early to make any statement regarding policy, it is admitted that if Carranza and Carbajal reach an agreement it will be considered that the terms arranged at Niagara Falls will be complied with.

Leb Watkins Should Worry

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., July 21.—Mayor Leb Watkins of this city is of a jovial sort or he wouldn't have such a friendly nickname, but the indications are that he's getting a little tired of having everybody linking every move he makes with the Catherine Winters mystery. Watkins has interested himself in the case considerably and has taken several trips running down clues—such as the hog-bone trip to Muncie—but he isn't in the sleuth business exclusively.

The mayor left town quietly recently and immediately the report was circulated that he had gone to new friends in hot pursuit of a fresh Winters' clue. No one would say where he had gone, and the city officials said they didn't know.

The fact was that Watkins had crept off to a little summer cottage he knew up near Kokomo, and he didn't write home because he was afraid someone would see the postmark. The peculiar coincidence was that Dr. Winters was then in Kokomo. Maybe he is a bit sensitive over the hog-bone incident. Accompanied by reporters and the mayor of Muncie, Watkins officiated at the digging up of hog bones from an unmarked grave that had been described vividly to him as the grave of Catherine Winters.

Watkins disappeared shortly after W. H. Blodgett, correspondent of an Indianapolis paper, related that the murder theory was exploded and that the general belief now was that Catherine was alive and that she had left here on a noon train with someone whom she trusted. He said also that the prevailing belief here now was that Catherine would be returned unharmed.

But Mastenson, who is now posing as a detective, returned here just prior to when he was sentenced in Indianapolis to serve 30 days and pay a fine of $50 for malicious destruction of property, and the report was that he knew where Catherine was.

LITTLE HOPE MAINTAINED.

Mrs. Virginia Hill, the aged Milroy woman, who was badly hurt in a fall down the stairs at the home of J. F. Miller last Saturday morning, remains in a serious condition and little hope is maintained for her recovery. Mrs. Hill is unconscious most of the time and has never rallied enough to give the details.

HOME RULE DISCUSSED.
